CONVEYOR SYSTEMS

We have been designing, developing and building bespoke modular conveyor systems since 1981 and have successfully provided handling solutions for all types of environments and applications.

Our specialist Food & Packaging division will work with you to develop the most cost effective solution to support your transfer and processing needs, whilst maintaining the highest possible quality standards. After 25 years in the industry we are committed to providing solutions that really work.

At LAC Conveyor Systems we have over 40 years combined experience of apprising, designing, manufacturing and installing innovative conveyor solutions to solve transfer and production processing requirements.

From food and preparation lines to pharmaceutical automation, our systems provide robust, durable and a time tested economic panacea no matter what size of project or budget.
